The British veteran peace worker was said to be displeased with the belief prevalent here that it is hopeless to resume the disarmament con ference December 4, the date set for the reopening of the discussions shorty after Germany withdrew.

Mr. Henderson was reported critical of the governments for not proceeding with a draft convention, despite Germany's departure, as they decided to do in October, and for sending "unimportant" representatives, having no authority to deal with outstanding problems, to a committee meeting.

"I refuse to be a party to procrastination," he is quoted as saying in reference to Germany's attitude of alcofness.

A session of the arms control committee today was marked by a clash between Japan and soviet Russia when Representative Sato, of Japan, declared it was extremely difficult for his government to accept a control of armaments and especially automatic investigation.

The soviet representative, M. Stein, insisted that a genuine control must have universal application and that "not a single country or region which neighbors Russian should be exempted."

F you value your health and your peace of mind, don't get caught in the vicious circle of the laxative

It seems like a small thing at first. You take just a small dose of any ordinary laxative to relieve a temporary condition. But pretty soon you find that your system does not respond to the usual dose. You increase it. You flog your intestines to action. Harsh laxatives taken in this way constantly irritate the delicate lining of the intestines and the necessary dose increases and increases.

Why should anyone continue to flog his system in this way when there is a natural and scientific laxative like Feen-a-mint available at every drug store? Feen-a-mint is different from ordinary laxatives. It is not swallowed. It is simply chewed into the saliva and the saliva takes charge from that point on.

In this way every particle of the laxative agent is made effective. It is spread over a wide area, making sure of a gradual, gentle action. No sudden jerks and jolts. No hit-or-miss. A thorough but safe action as Nature

FOR LONGER DAY

Further trial of the longer school day in Atlanta high schools will be recommended this afternoon at a meeting of the board of education, it was decided Monday night at a meeting of the rules committee of the board.

The committee will ask additional time during which the administration department will attempt to eliminate or at least reduce the objections to the extra hour of school day.

There appeared little likelihood that any concerted fight will be made on the rules committee request although there is considerable opposition on the board to the present long day.

High schools now close the school day at 3:10 o'clock in the afternoons, an hour later than formerly.

BY CAROLINA GROWERS

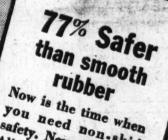

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 13.—(P)—
North Carolina tobacco growers received for tobacco they sold last month nearly twice as much as for their sales in October of last year, the state-federal crop reporting service indicated in its report today.

Higher prices and a greater volume of sales were responsible.

Sales in October totaled 167,943,957 pounds which brought an average of $15.05 a hundred as compared with sales of 104,972,782 pounds in the same month of 1982 which brought an average of only $12.59, the report revealed.

On the basis of these figures, growers grossed approximately $25,576.
000 for their tobacco sold last month as compared with $13,215,000 in October, 1932. However, farmers have to pay warehouse costs, which approximate 2 per cent of the receipts.

Unique Experiment at Abraham Baldwin College Described by King.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13—(P)—An agricultural college designed to turn out leading farmers rather than farm leaders was described in an address here today before the American Association for the advancement of agricultural teaching.

The speaker was George H. King, dean of instruction at Abraham Bald-win Agricultural College, now in its first year of operation at Tifton, Ga. The sole announced purpose of the school is to send better equipped farmers and farm home makers back to the soil in rural Georgia, and all of its courses have been designed for that end. Members of the board of the university system, of regents of the university system. of Georgia call it an unique educational Georgia call it an unique educational experiment.

The founding of the school, King said, "was partly in answer to the criticism that agricultural colleges have not been training farmers."

"While representatives of agricultural education have defended the charge on the ground that rural leaders were needed," he continued, "the large percentage of agricultural college graduates who failed to return to the farms leads one to believe that perhaps all of the graduates who went into positions of leadership were not leaders. "In Georgia, for example, only 18.4

"In Georgia, for example, only 18.4 per cent of the graduates of the Georgia State College of Agriculture from 1902 to 1925 became farmers, and half of these had other business interests in addition to farming."

He said the need for recruits had passed in the field for the type of agricultural leaders turned out by the more formal agricultural schools and the present need is for leading farmers.

The Georgia school also was designed to meet the needs of students of limited means, unable to pay for a four-year course in the old type of college, King said, and the two-year course at Abraham Baldwin was made available at a total cost around $175.

The whole curriculum, he said, has been built toward the one objective,

Theory and practice of actual farming form the basis of the curriculum, with sciences, economics, history, Eng-lish and other formal studies sub-ordinated and the courses redesigned to contribute to successful farming and satisfactory participation in rural, social and civic activities.

Freeze Will Follow Dust Clouds Which Spread Over City Monday

Dust clouds which Monday spread over the central area of the country from Little Rock to Cleveland and from Illinois to Chattanooga, extending their coverage to Atlanta, will be followed this morning by freezing weather. The dust clouds Monday prevented a visibility of more than half a mile, according to George W. Mindling, the weather forecaster. This record, he said, had not been approached since 1910, when dust clouds held certain sections down to a visibility of a mile. He ascribed the condition to dry weather and high winds. Monday's cloudiness, he said, was composed largely of dust. The

Waltz Time' Pleases Buckhead Audiences.

"Waltz Time," first-run attraction playing this week at the Buckhead theater is the type of picture that you will like immensely if you have weaknesses for exquisite, light music, for comedy both delicate and low, for a simple yet entertaining story and for a production that carries the whimsical motif of the plot throughout.

Evelyn Laye, in the star role, is utterly delightful. And, in connection with Miss Laye, there must be a special paragraph of explanation.

Miss Laye, you probably know, is the reigning queen of the British musical comedy stage. So dainty and popular is she in London that one of our Hollywood producers brought her to the cinema stronghold on the shores of the Pacific. She made one picture that someone, the producer or director or cameraman or somebody, messed up so completely that all Miss Laye's charm was lost and she appeared little short of wooden.

"Now, in "Waltz Time," British playing this week at the Buckhead have shown up Hollywood rather badly.

The music of this new picture is by Johann Strauss, the waltz king, which means it is tuneful, smooth and completely satisfying.

Fritz Schultz in the leading male role is a clever light comedian with a pleasing singing voice, while there are also, for your amusement, Gina Malo, as a soubrettish maid; Edmond Breon, who is grand as the champagne-loving judge, and Frank Titterton as the singing cab driver.

The scenes and the atmosphere of the picture are Viennese, but its diathe picture are Viennese, but its dia-logue and lyrics are entirely in Eng-lish.

Gaumont have made a picture that reveals all the beauty and personality that the Hollywood product so com-pletely ruined. Hence, in this re-spect, our British film competitors have shown up Hollywood rather badly.

The chief criticism to be made is the sound, which is not quite as ma-chanically perfect as it should be, in chanically perfect as it should be, in a few spots.

But, as a whole, the picture is a delight and is a refreshing variation from the regulation output from Hollywood. If this is a fair sample it is to be hoped the Buckhead will continue to bring us an occasional British-made film to continue this blessed relief.

LIFE IS A LONG BEAUTY CONTEST

Like Marjorie . . . who is pictured above ... you, too, are in a never-ending Beauty Contest. It may be at a party ... or at some informal gathering of friends that your beauty...your charm...and your skin will be judged. For wherever you go and whatever you do - you must compete for attentions and flattery with many other good-looking women.

So get yourself a Camay Complexion ... a skin that is soft as a dove's wings and fresh as a flower's petals. Then the eyes of every new man you meet, of every woman you know, will look at you approvingly . . . with keen admiration.

THE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

For Camay, the Soap of Beautiful Women, can greatly improve your skin. Nothing so caressingly rich has ever touched your cheek before! Try Camayone month. The change in your skin will delight you!

Even the most delicate feminine skin thrives on Camay's gentle care. Fragrant and mild...creamy-white and pure... Camay is the beauty soap for you!

"For months I have used Camay, and the texture of my skin is ever so much finer," wrote a girl from Colorado.

Thousands of women use Camay in preference to all other soaps. And more thousands each day are taking up the Soap of Beautiful Women!

Get Camay today...in the green and yellow wrapper, in Cellophane. It's the 1933 beauty soap . . . the smartest looking, best feeling soap of the year. And the price is amazingly low!

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

About six months ago Dr. Goebbels, German minister of propaganda, told an assembly of film directors to stop worrying about new subjects, bu to take their scenarios from everyday German life which "for years has been the most dramatic scenario imaginable."

The Uta Company has answered the appeal of the propaganda minis-ter with a film which is called 100 per cent Hitlerite and which intro duces "a new spirit in filmdom." The premiere was an event of glitterin pomp and circumstance. In the biggest theater of Berlin, with Herren Hitler and Goebbels and Baldur Von Schirach in the logue d'honneur with battalions of young Hitlerites immobile, stiff lined up along both sides, with flags and standards and banners decorating the interior, with a splendid band playing, with the finest monocles of Germany in evidence and the best polished riding boots, the first showing of this film, which is known as "Hitlerjunge Quex." was more of a celebration than a success. The atmosphere was quasi-religious, says pomp and circumstance. In the big atmosphere was quasi-religious, say one German critic, "Like a battlefield asleep," adds a Frenchman, who saw the picture, of which nothing may be shown in France for some reason or than the picture.

shown in France for some reason or other, not even stills.

But what is the subject of this film? It is to introduce a new spirit in German filmdom. What is that new spirit? In order to find out I read all the write-ups of the all the Berlin and all the foreign correspondents in Berlin. The bellringers say it's a glorious film. Maybe it is. But all the foreigners who have seen it, that is to say, men and women it, that is to say, men and women who may still exercise their critical faculties, all of them declare with who may still exercise their critical faculties, all of them declare with amazing singleness of opinion that the great German film is an adaptation of the soviet film, "The Road to Life," which appeared in America under the title of "Let's Build a Railway," I believe. Of course in the German film it's the kids of pan-Germanists who triumed wills in which in the course in the course who triumed wills in the course in the course in the course who triumed wills in the course in the course who triumed wills in the course in the course who triumed wills in the course who triumed wills in the course when the course we can be considered. manists who triumph, while in the red film it's the communist kids.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon.

SMILES WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 .- State Secretary Hull had toothpicks in his cheeks to maintain his smile as he departed for South America.

Hull is not being fooled. He knows there is very little chance of getting anything except trouble out of the Montevideo Pan-

American conference. The newspapers think so little of his trip that they are sending no more than four men with him. It appears that at least two of these four are taking the trip simply as a vacation.

Probably no foreign journey of an American secretary of state has ever been attended by so little notice. It was Mr. Roosevelt who insisted Hull should go, when Hull wanted to back out. This fact has caused unwarranted gossip in the inner circle suggesting the president wanted to get rid of Hull. The truth appears to be that Mr. Roosevelt knows the tariff will be futile, but hopes to get negotiations started regarding defaulted South American bonds Hull is known to carry several plans of action in his brief case. His job down there will be as a bill collector, rather than tariff adjuster. DETERMINATION The New York banks secretly decided a few days ago that they would not co-operate in the Jesse Jones preferred stock plan.

That makes the third time the bankers have changed their minds, but this time, they whisper, they will stand by their decision. Probably not. Chairman Jones, of the R. F. C., is understood to have some ideas to make them change again.

Nevertheless the inside contest is developing in importance as the time (January 1) draws near for the inauguration of the deposit insurance system.

With the New York banks and the Mellons hanging back and Jones in a determined mood, the situation may get interesting.

SCHEMING Hitler's scheming now is supposed to be directed toward a private understanding with Britain, Italy and possibly Japan.

His agents are working on it. His foreign policy is being conducted toward getting these three friends on his side,

Those who know something of his plans also say he will have a good air force within two years. It is now being built secretly.

That is the time they expect trouble in Europe, not now. One of the greatest forces for peace in Europe is the existing turbulence among the French peasantry. It seems the peasant has become a confirmed pacifist. He would not follow the French military staff in any such step as reinvasion of the Ruhr. At least, these are the conclusions of continental insiders who have recently come from Europe.

They do not share the Washington view that Hitler may soon lose his crown. They say he controls his army 100 per cent, that he is collecting more taxes than his predecessors and that he can keep his opposition in terror indefinitely. All the European chancelleries seem to believe they will have the firebrand on their hands for some years to come.

PROPAGANDA From sources just as good, comes an opinion that Hitler has several propagandists working under cover in the United States.

Our officials have good reason to suspect that the missing Helnz Spanknoebel was one of them, despite Hitler's repudiation of him.
They recall also that one Kurt Ludecke came to Washington some months ago, ostensibly as a correspondent for one of the nazi Whether or not he sent any dispatches back to Germany, he served principally as a lesser propagandist for the nazis. He is accredited backstage with having inspired the protest against the landing of Einstein. His work was not entirely successful and he went back to Germany.

The trick behind Hitler repudiations of his agents here seems to be that the German government does not employ them, but the nazi party (a private institution) does.

In that and other similar ways, the German government can escape responsibility for them. It means the coming congressional investigation will have a hard time finding out anything worth while.

GREASE Sam Insull appears to be safe in Greece for the rest Our officials confidentially believe there is no way of getting him back. They cannot prove it but feel certain somebody's palms have been greased. There are two kinds of bugs in Treasury Secretary Woodin's throat, one kind is encouraging the other. The physicians believe that if they can kill one kind, the other kind will die. If they are successful, Woodwin will probably let them work on the budget. The rumors that Henry Morgenthau Jr. will succeed Woodin are still kicking around, but so far are without substantial confirmation.

The Pittsburgh mayoralty victory for the democrats will make Joe Guffey a more important figure in national democratic circles.

Mr. Litvinoff's secret hobby is a Russian game similar to anagrams. It is based on the idea of taking one word and juggling it until you get several. The White House suspects he has been liplomatic variation of that game in his official negotiations with Mr. Roosevelt. (Copyright, 1983, by Paul Mallon.)

The Alligator Doesn't Eat Rabbits If Rabbits Stay Out of the Swamp By Robert Quillen—

When our fathers had to endure an evil that seemed unavoidable, they decided it was good for them. Suffering was universal and apparently necessary. Therefore, it was ordained of Heaven to chasten the spirit and purify the soul. That doctrine isn't popular now, but it still has supporters. An article in the November Atlantic says the one thing that redeems life and makes it worth while is "to learn to suffer in patience, in humility, in confidence that suffering is the supreme meaning and purmay be true but I don't believe it.

If you accept the first part of orthodox theology—that man suffers because of Adam's fall—there is no reason to reject the second part, by which man is redeemed from the original curse. If sin causes suffering, and God gave His Son to redeem the world from sin, surely it isn't His desire that man should suffer.

And if you reject all theology, and accept the evidence of nature alone, where do you find proof that suffering is the purpose of life? The wild things observe the laws of nature, which surely are the laws of God; and though many of them are doomed to suffer, they all have means of protection or escape and evade suffering when they can. If suffering is the meaning and purpose of their lives, why are they well equipped to escape it?

Does the rule apply to man alone? He also does his utmost to avoid rt. Did nature give him an instinctive urge to escape the very purpose for which he lives?

There is no evidence that God desires His creatures to suffer. Children are born blind and maimed and diseased, but they would have no blemish if their parents had obeyed God's laws.

Wars cause untold suffering, but they are an evil easily avoided. Crime, poverty and disease fill the world with misery, but men ould prevent all three if they would. No suffering man endures is ordained of Heaven, for in every in-tance he invited hurt by wrong living or failed to employ the wit God

Are men doomed by storms at sea, by cyclones, floods and volca-noes? There is no law that requires them to be within reach of danger; and where danger threatens, they have the God-given intelligence to provide a means of protection.

God didn't make man for the purpose of suffering and then give him the instinct and the brains to avoid it. The idea doesn't make sense. Penalties aren't inevitable if those who obey the rules escape them.

Several New Moves Begun to Spur Flow of Funds To Unemployed.

In connection with the new plan for the federal government for putting public works and relief funds in county highway maintenance work, the governor and Chairman Mangham estimated that the state is entitled to about $4,700,000 of the total fund, but Mr. Mangham informed Mr. MacDonald that up to $6,000,000 could be used.

Under the plan of the president a total of $30,000 may be expended on aix projects in every county in the country. Georgia with its 159 counties would receive $4,700,000 if the limit is obtained.

"This is one time that Georgia's every moves."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—While continuing to hike the price of gold in accordance with a previously announced effort to raise commodity prices, the administration to pump money into the hands of the unemployed.

In line with the president's avowed determination to place 2,000,000 men now on work relief on "regular work at regular wages" by November 16, with another 2,000,000 unemployed to be absorbed as soon as possible, administration officials announced several new moves.

limit is obtained.

"This is one time that Georgia's 159 counties stand it in good stead," the governor said in commenting on the program. "We have a large number of counties and Georgia will be in the top rank among the states receiving benefits from this particular fund."

Mr. Mangham said that the state highway department is well equipped to handle the program and will be ready to start whenever the federal government says the word.

List of Projects.

The bureau of public roads invited state highway commissions to list immediately at least six projects for each of the 3,000 counties in the country on which maintenance expenditures of not more than $5,000 might be made immediately. The projects would be financed in the proportion of 65 per cent relief funds and 35 per cent federal-aid funds to the states. It was said that $90,000,000 would be spent for such work.

Rail Loan Interest Cut.

The Reconstruction Corporation reduced the interest on loans to railroads from 5 per cent to 4 per cent for the year that began on November 1, with the understanding that the railroads would use the saving "plus substantial additional funds" to employ new men during the winds.

The newly-reorganized Home Owners' Loan Corporation announced plans it said was intended to clear up $903,000,000 in mortgages in the closed banks of 10 states and put cash into the hands of depositors in the closed banks. Under the plans, the corporation would exchange its bonds for the mortgages and the former might be used as collateral for loans from the R. F. C. at 80 per cent of their value. Freeing money for quick payment to depositors was described as the purpose behind the move.

The Louisville & Nashville reduced coach rates to 2 cents a mile last March and W. I. Lightfoot, general passenger agent, said in Louisville no other reductions were in prospect. The L. & N. operates over 5,138 miles in the territory bounded by New Orleans, Memphis, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Knoxville and Atlanta.

Meanwhile, C. A. He said while no decision had been made the subject had been given "consideration" as a proposition for an experiment.

The Southern's line runs from Washington and Cincinnati on the north to Jacksonville and New Orleans, through Atlanta, on the south, and Memphis and St. Louis on the yest.

French Cabinet Split On German Parleys

PARIS, Nov. 13.-(P)-A sem official suggestion for a heart-to-heart talk between Premier Albert Sarraut and Adolf Hitler threw the French cabinet today into disagreement.

Although not brought up formally in the cabinet session, this question of direct conversations to determine where Germany is headed received foremost attention in parliamentary

The disagreement expressed over le safeness of such direct negotiaons is expected to bring a complete ejection of the idea when it is brought up in tomorrow's session.

It is known that Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour definitely favors direct negotiations on Franco-German problems, but the rest of the cabinet is withholding indorsement.

Treasury Head Denies Rift With White House as Metal Price Advances

BRITISH SEE 'BLUFF' IN U. S. GOLD BUYING

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(P)—British treasury officials, says the Dally Mall, are beginning to think President Roosevelt was bluffing about buying gold abroad.

They think, inasmuch as no trace of gold purchases by the president can be found, that he merely was relying on the psychological effect of a bluff to depreciate the dollar, the Mall added.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(49)-The administration boosted gold prices again today, denied that there was a disagreement between the White House and treasury, and with expressions of satisfaction watched govern-ment bond prices hold firm in spite of a severe decline in the dollar.

of a severe decline in the dollar.

The price of domestic gold was sent to another new high, $33.45, 13 cents above Saturday, and 46 cents more than the world price, a margin which was cut, however, to 10 cents as the dollar fell from $5.11 to $5.16 1-2.

The denial of a rift on the gold program came from Secretary Woodin. After a visit to the White House, he called reporters to his office and said:

"The president has been good enough to consult with him ou his program. 1 am heartily in sympathy with all his policies and will back them to the limit."

Government financial officers spent an anxious two days last week as the market value of the securities declined simultaneously with the slump in the dollar on foreign exchange. They exhibited pleasure today that the bonds were able to hold thir own while the dollar was dropping to approximately the point of Thursday's low level.

Reports were current late in the day that federal reserve system was supporting the bond market by increased purchases of government securities. Officials would not comment.

Tradition Is Great Stuff in Its Proper Place

"The Yales," said the big fellow, shivering in the cruel cold wind which was cutting through the press box atop the stadium's rim at New Haven last Saturday, as the crowd poured out after watching Georgia win, "are great people for tradition. And that is why they have no good football teams.

"You see," he said, "tradition is a great thing, but you cannot win football games with tradition. Now if your band were to play 'Dixie' and we were some place other than this draughty icebox, I would toss my hat in the air even quicker than you," said the man who was telling what was wrong with the Yales. "I believe in tradition but only in its proper place.

"Yale has one of the finest fellows in the game as head coach. But he had no experience other than that gained coaching some Mex kids. And here he is stuck in one of the biggest jobs in the game. It's a tradition to have a Yale man as coach and that's all right," he said, "but why pick on a swell young fellow who hasn't the experience for it? And why let tradition have the captain as the last word in any decision?

"It's all wrong," he said, "tradition is—"
But I had left him, wondering only if I would last through the pneumonia germs and snow until the train was reached at the New Haven station.

The Yales, whatever may be the matter with their football system, have constructed a very poor press cage. The flooring is widely separated so that the wind whistles up the pants legs of the inhabitants of the press cage. And there are no protecting side walls nor is there any glass in front.

On Saturday afternoon, as Georgia beat Yale, the telegraph operators had trouble sending their stuff. The teeth of the occupants of the box were clicking with such force and rapidity that the telegraph instruments

It may be that the garrulous man in the press box was all right. Maybe I should have stayed and listened. But there was snow coming down even then.

ALMOST TALKED THEM OUT OF IT.

Georgia's football players reported the Yale team to be made up of unusually fine boys. They rated them as the finest fellows met to date.

But-they were much too curious. In fact they almost talked the Georgians out of the game. You see, the Georgia team goes around with the idea that football is a game involving bodily contact and that there is no earning the theory of said theory into execution.

The Yale players, so the Georgians reported, talked a lot. They wanted to know what courses the boys were taking, what they intended to do or become when they left school. It was all very nice and pleasant. But it was slightly disconcerting to have a friendly little chat with a fellow one moment and then have to leave your feet and give him the works a mo-

It is a great thing for these teams from various sections to get together. But there should be a time and a place for a social meeting.

I am very sorry to be unable to adopt the English idea of games. The victory seems most important. If it isn't why did they ever start keeping score?

SAM BROWN, OF ALL-BENNY.

Had there been any citizens of that great city of Albany, Ga., on hand at the Yale-Georgia game Saturday they would have been completely enraged.

"Well, it took a boy from the north to keep Yale from winning," said the crowd after the game. And then it developed, upon investigation, that Sam Brown was listed in the program as being from Albany, N. Y., instead

TECH'S VICTORY PLEASES.

Georgia Tech's great victory over Florida was a most gratifying event of the week-end. Tech's team had every excuse in the world to fold up and surrender. After losing by 7 to 6 at Kentucky, 9 to 6 at Vanderbilt and 7 to 0 in the mud to Tulane, a team with weaker stamina and heart would not have come back with what must have been a flashing football game.

The Jackets have a very, very difficult road ahead with Alabama, Georgia and Duke as foes. Georgia and Duke are undefeated. Alabama has been tied but beaten only by Fordham and that a mere 2 to 0.

Tech apparently has not a chance to beat Alabama; Georgia or Duke. But Tech's chances to win from Alabama in 1932 were even less.

I rather imagine a trip to Tuscaloosa would find Frank Thomas going about the business of preparing for Tech in a very, very serious manner.

Wallace Wade, who was encountered on the way up to lew Haven, Duke and Wade being on the way to Baltimore, is already worried about Tech. "The greatest games I used to have at Alabama were with Tech," he said. "And I know it won't be any different at Duke."

New Cracker Manager Announces Deals for Six Men.

By Jimmy Jones.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 13.—The inaugural lap of Atlanta's baseball missionaries' journey to Galveston met with pleasing success here today, through the appointment of your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, the Cracker president, on the 1934 schedule committee at the one-day league meeting here.

It was the first time in 10 years that Atlanta has had a voice and hand in the drawing up of the schedule—Jack Corbett being the last Cracker representative—and in view of Uncle Robby's vigorous campaign toward that end, ending with his appointment to the important committee today, the Crackers at least will not have to contend with the adversities of a poor schedule, the club's No. 1 handicap for the last three years.

A "NEW DEAL."

A "NEW DEAL."

As for that genial gentleman, Mr. Robinson, he was beaming like the face of a full harvest moon tonight over scoring his first victory in behalf of a "new deal" for Atlanta from the league. It was a new deal all around for that matter, since Little Rock, another recipient of some forlorn luck from the draw of games, landed Roy Thompson on the committee, thereby breaking the monopoly which Memphis has held along with Birmingham and New Orleans in the drawing of the schedule.

Atlanta representatives of the press schedule.

Atlanta representatives of the press received other encouraging news to-night from Spencer Abbott, the Crackers' new manager, who, by the way, made a very good impression on all concerned.

Mr. Abbott, who is nothing if not Frank, calmly announced that he had six new ball players practically signed and was waiting only until arriving at Galveston to get their nahes on the dotted line and put the sales papers through before announcing their names.

such force and rapidity that the telegraph instruments

The fellow may be right. There didn't really seem much wrong with Yale in the second half. But it was leave him or perish with cold. If there be any arctic exploring party looking for a young man with experience, I can supply one.

PLENTY MATERIAL.

The Yale coaches said after the game, while discussing the Georgia victory with the Georgia coaches, that they regretted not having a team rugged enough to use a six-man line as did the Athens Bulldogs.

Yale started with one but was quickly forced into a seven-man line when Homer Key began to write a new Odyssey with his feet.

Now, this was a very queer sort of statement because the line of the Yales weighed more than the line of the Georgians. And there seemed to be man-power in great plenty on the Yale squad.

WILL WAIT.

"I could tell you fellows now, but it is my policy to wait until a player is safely signed before broadcasting any news about him, but I will tell you this much, that we have an outfielder, two pitchers and a catcher on the way."

Abbott, famous for his ability to choose players with unimpressive records, yet with the knack of fitting into the scheme of a winning club, let it be known that the catcher he was seeking and had a good chance of landing was none other tha Joe Palmisano, West Point (Ga.) boy, former Tech star, and capable receiver of Abbott's Portland club for the last two years. Palmisano batted .293 last season against coast pitching in over 100 games and, according to Abbott, is a great man for working pitchers.

An outfielder from the International league—a capable ball player last year—also is on the list.

SEEKS GRANT.

Tonight, Abbott had a lengthy chat with Bill Terry, Memphis boy, and manager of the world's champion Giants, about a certain player upon whom the Giants have strings that he wants to get. Abbott, back in 1922, suggested the name of Bill Terry to John J. McGraw as a big league prospect and McGraw signed him off the Memphis sandlots, where he managed a team, on Abbott's suggestion.

A LITTLE MONEY.

"A little money will go a long way toward getting ball players this year and I already have the players lined up," Abbott stated. He recalled the season of 1921 when he bought 11 ball players for the Memphis club. some of whom were fairly obscure players—greatly to the consternation of Owner Tom Watkins—and put together a winner that stayed on top all year and set a record of 103 victories. Some of those players were free agents. One pitcher named Marks bad a record of two wins and 11 losses the year before and two infielders had batted .275 but under Abbott they made winning ball players.

Abbott they made winning ball players.

"Frankly, I don't figure over keeping one man—Buster Chatham—of the present Atlanta infield," Abbott revealed. "I figure we need about five pitchers, a catcher, a first and second-baseman and an outfielder. I like this young fellow McKee, and I'm going to keep him."

ANOTHER TRIUMPH.

President Robinson also scored another triumph in his fight for a later opening and closing the Southern league, comparing with that of the major leagues. It was Uncle Robby's contention (as carried in Monday morning's Constitution) that the southern should delay its start in the spring to avoid the inclement weather of early April.

Morehouse, showing powerful strength against the Talladega Tigers, whom they defeated by a close 6-0 decision, presented an air-tight defense against the Alabamans and an offense that looked at least 70 per cent better than they were at the early stages of the season.

Very few injuries of major importance were received in their last game and it is believed by Trainer Kelly that every man will be available for the traditional fracas.

In this game comparative scores mean nothing. Regardless of the strength of the two teams, past years have recorded games that have never failed to be short of thrilling. Tickets can be purchased at the business office of Morehouse on the campus.

Georgia has held the last three foes scoreless—Florida, New York University and Yale— in the order named. The defense in the Florida game allowed the Fighting Gators past midfield but once and then no deeper into Georgia territory than the 38-yard line.

Indians derive their names from some object that strikes the fancy of the parents as the young one greets the light of day.

And so it is very likely that Chief Chewchki, who meets Darna Ostopavitch, the Lithuanian, in the feature match of tonight's wrestling card at the City auditorium, derived his name from a fellow Indian who was chewing on something or other at the time.

This must have been the case and the Chief must have inherited the other guy's trait, because Chewchki likes nothing better in the heat of battle than to grab some ringsider's hat and chew it to shreds, then take the remaining pieces and attempt to stuff

IN TIDE GAME

Bama Is 'On Spot' This Time; Engineers Are Improved.

By Ralph McGill.

Those Georgia Tech Jackets were discovered romping around Monday afternoon on their native heath still full of the touchdown tonic of Saturday afternoon when they ran over Florida with a surprising sort of offense and the usual air-tight defense.

The Jackets have yet to be really beaten. In two of the three games lost the Jackets scored as many touchdowns as their victorious foes. That was against Kentucky, where a point after touchdown was the margin, and against Vanderbilt, where the edge was a point after and a safety.

WATCH OUT WATCH OUT.

Tulane is the only team to beat Tech which really outscored them. And this was on a wet field on which Tech gained more ground and made more first downs. And so, anyone who dismisses the Jackets as a team to be considered but lightly is a member of the tribe of Homo Sapiens, of which we are all members. Some, however, more so than others.

The Jackets are the underdors again. The Jackets are the underdogs again Saturday when the Crimson Tide gets on the railroads cars and flows up to Atlanta. But the Jackets at least have this advantage: they are not worrying about Alabama. And Alabama is wor-ried plenty about the Jackets. Or rather they had best worry a lot. And should Alabama win, as Alabama should by a margin of one or two touchdowns, then Georgia and Duke will have to do the worrying. The Jackets seem to just go out there and play the best they know how. (And they are getting better each week.) And if that isn't enough, then that's too bad. Maybe next week it will be enough.

Alabama should have won by two or three touchdowns last year. But Tech's second team won 6 to 0. It was one of the major shocks of the

And Jack Phillips, who has gone to work and made himself into a good punter, was also a standout.

Mr. Alexander was chiding the football reporters a bit. It was "Twenty Grand" Slocumb who played the best game on the field Saturday, said Mr. Alexander. And it went almost unnoticed. The boys chided back, saying it was not news because Twenty Grand had been playing well in every game.

Alabama, using a Notre Dame offense and also a short punt formation offense; and employing a Notre Dame defense and also the same defense used by Wallace Wade, is one of the nation's great teams.

As I said before, it is up to Alabama to do the worrying. The Jackets are simply getting ready to play a fine game. It's up to Alabama to win it.

Fans to See Low Scores From Here on Out Over Nation.

By Edward J. Neil.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(P)—College football scoring, on the basis of performances thus far this season by teams representative of the entire knee injury. Someone must be foun necessary representative of the entire country, has set a new low record, thereby adding weight today to the arguments of coaches that the defense has gained the upper hand and, in effect, pretty well throttled the offense. Despite the fact that most of the high scoring 'breather' games are over, and only tight, low point battles lie ahead, average scores of 164 teams have dropped to 12.09 points a game. Over the entire season of 1932, 159 clevens averaged 12.83 points per game, a mark that was 1.17 points under the lowest previous average in the 11 years the Associated Press has kept such records.

Little has suggested, and several other head coaches have joined in the movement, returning to the old regulations, where fumbles and blocked kicks were free balls and could be picked up and advanced.

rule, devised to aid the offense by increasing the use of the lateral pass through a decrease in the penalty for fumbling on this type of play, has not obtained its objective and has resulted only in complications for officials and players.

So far this season, at least three major controversies arose over official rulings on blocks kicks and fumbles, where referees either allowed the ball to be advanced, or hesitated long enough in their decisions to spike offensive threats.

On the other hand, many coaches believe the "dead ball" rule not only is desirable, from the standpoint of fairness to the side losing possession, but that it has encouraged the offense to take more chances than it would under the old "recover and run" regulations.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—(R)—Directing a blow at the chain store system in baseball, the American association has imposed drastic penalties for clubs which acquire player strength from their major league affiliates except during the early stages of the annual pennant race.

By a vote of six to two, association clubowners in session here over the week-end adopted a resolution setting May 15 as the last date on which a member club can obtain players from their major league sponsors. A team violating the new regulation would be subject to a fine of $1,000 for each game, and games won by the this season's code the ball automatically comes in 10 yards whenever it is downed closer than that distance to the boundary.

Inasmuch as the major elevens, with the stubborn late November and early December games still ahead, scarcely can hope to average two touchdowns per Saturday, there seems every likelihood of a further drop in the averages over the full season, and a corresponding increase in agitation this winter for more rule changes.

Already Lou Little, of Columbia, chairman of the coaches' advisory committee that meets with the rules committee, has opened the drive for further changes with the suggestion that football eliminate the "dead ball" provisions on fumbles and blocked in Punting.

Improved Defense To Aid Oglethorpe Team at Augusta.

By Jack Troy.

Oglethorpe is expected to play perhaps its best game of the season against Citadel Saturday at Augusta. There is évery reason to expect it.

For one thing, Oglethorpe was improved defensively in the Auburn game. The Petreis had a chance to make it tough for Auburn in the first half with Belton Clark outkicking his Tiger contemporaries. Tiger contemporaries.

But Oglethorpe couldn't muster an offensive punch. The Petrels could gain only 20 yards and no first downs at all in the entire half. And so, while the defense looked fine, the offense had the appearance of a train engine pulling a heavy load of steel up a steep mountainside.

PRAISED BY WYNNE. Coach Chet Wynne, of Auburn, highly praised the Oglethorpe team. He was particularly impressed with the players' sportsmanship.

"I had heard," said Coach Wynne to Coach Harry Robertson, "I had heard that Oglethorpe was a rough team. But I saw no evidence of it." Oglethorpe has pulled some rough stuff in games this year. Some say it was because the opposition, considered inferior, was conceding the Petrels nothing and the young men couldn't take it. So they got tough about it.

CLEAN FOOTBALL.

Coach Robertson in his many years at Oglethorpe has had only two players—two—put out of games for roughness prior to this year. He teaches clean football. His record shows it.

This year one or two players went haywire and were about to create the impression Oglethorpe was a wild and woolly bunch of young reprobates.

Robertson talked to the boys before the Auburn game and stressed the desirability of clean play. He had talked to them before about it, but this time it seemed to do some good.

Coach Robertson was pleased to see

Following the close of the session yesterday clubowners and officials left for Galveston, Texas, to attend the annual meeting of the National As-sociation of Professional Baseball sociation of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The playoff plan adopted last season will be given another trial despite the protests of several members. The club leading the four western clubs at the close of the schedule will meet the leader of the eastern division for the association pennant. A 154-game schedule was adopted. The season opening April 17, and closing September 17.

The player limit was set at 20, the limit to include any injured players under contract. No official cation was taken on night baseball, but some owners expressed the opinion it would perish altogether or would be limited to one night a week.

And Citadel, which is not in Auburn's class by any means, is going to face an improved Oglethorpe team and will be lucky to get out the game alive.

Oglethorpe has won four and lost three. A victory Saturday would help the season's percentage considerably.

A light workout was held yesterday.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 13.—(4)

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, believes there is nothing wrong with the game except the effect of economic conditions.

"Steel, factories, railroads, newspapers, agriculture, live stock, baseball—we all rode down together and we'll all ride back together," he said today.

"That shows," Landis said, "that the American peeple still love the great game of baseball. Many of them now are peering over the fence or horough it and they will return as a paid customer as soon as they have any money."

The commissioner declared other sports were not cutting into the

If the player allows his head to turn with his body during a practice swing, it's sure to turn on the very next shot he plays.

If he practices with a loose grip the next shot is bound to suffer from poor control over the club.

At all times, the things to practice are those which you expect to do when you swing at the ball.

Therefore, make sure that your chin is back during the practice swing. And this means during the very last swing you make. swing. And this means very last swing you make.

it seemed to do some good.

Coach Robertson was pleased to see at least one Oglethorpe lineman getting across the line of scrimmage in every play against Auburn. It was the first time this season that he had the pleasure of seeing at least one of his men consistently in the other team's backfield.

SAME TEAM.

The same team that started against Auburn probably will get the call in the Citadel game. It seemed to be the citadel game. It seemed to be the citadel game, the call in the Citadel game. It seemed to be the citadel game at least one of his men consistently in the other team's backfield.

The same team that started against Whitton, backs, and Chambliss, regular running guard, scored all the points.

Kimbrell took the honors for the day by scoring twice and kicking two extra points for a total of 13. Phipps kicked only one point after and so had a total of 12.

Where Duke stopped Auburn's passing—which is really to be feared—Oglethorpe did not have the means their command. Kimbrell outkicked Rossiter, Duke, and is apt to outkick anybody in the south he meets. He is a great triple-threat back.

REGULARS REST.

And for the Georgia game one must consider that Fenton and Ariail, the regular ends; McCollum and Holmes, the regular tackles; Chrietzburg, reg-ular center; Rogers, regular half, and Marion Talley, the Decatur boy, reg-ular fullback, did not get in the Ogle-thorpe game at all. One might say that eight regulars were given a holiday, because Ripper. Williams, varsity quarterback, played only a short time. Red Head was in there most of the afternoon and gave there most of the afternoon and gave a very creditable showing.

And it has taken Auburn just about this long to forget the loss of Jimmy Hitchcock and go on its own.

Auburn held Oglethorpe to a 20-yard gain and no first downs in the first half. It is a new defense that pleases Coach Wynne. And is certain to prove troublesome in the Georgia Tide Faces Tech After Series of Hard Games.

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Nov. 13.— Caught napping by the Yellow Jackets last year, Alabama's Tidesmen will have to guard against another slump this Saturday, when the squad journeys over to Atlanta for a game with Georgia Tech.

journeys over to Atlanta for a game with Georgia Tech.

Tech plays Alabama in a strategic position to catch them on an off-day. Alabama has played a series of gruelling games, and a let down is natural after three or four hard contests.

The Jackets have a dangerous eleven to meet on an off-day too. It is just such a team as this that is apt to uncork an unexpected attack and check an unwary team.

The Techmen also are well acquainted with Notre Dame football, and it will be mighty hard for the Crimsons to put anything new against them. Alexander has been trying to stop Rockne plays since the days of the four horsemen, and by this time he is well versed in the defenses best calculated to stop them.

The men of 'Bama must continue to take the opposition in their stride. After Tech will come Vanderbilt, and the Crimsons cannot afford to prime for either team any more than the other.

Tech upset the Tidesmen last year when Galloway broke loose for a touchdown on a fluke play, but the Crimsons are not looking for a repetition of this stunt again this year. The Capstone line is stronger this year, and the men are out to get revenge for their defeat last season.

Thomas is to continue polishing his secondary defense again this week.

Tech has a strong passing attack and is dangerous on sweeping plays. This will make it necessary for the Tide Teen has a strong passing attack and is dangerous on sweeping plays. This will make it necessary for the Tide secondary to be on its toes. The passing defense has been especially weak this year.

The newcomers were Dave Cheek at end; Bill Francisco, tackle; Frank Schumann, guard; Harry Wells, left halfback, and Chester Litman, right half. Litman replaces the injured Francis Lane. The only other casualty of the Army game was Captain Johnny Dean, whose shoulder injury may keep him out of the battle with Brown.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—(#)

M. E. Mortenson, 33, a bank auditor, who aw six men inside the bank as he as about to enter, flustrated an attempt to rob the Marquette National Bank and Trust Company today.

He ran up the street, pursued by a robber look out, shouting, "Holdup, Marquette Trust Company."

The men in the bank, hearing police alarms on a short wave radio they had set up when they entered shortly after 6 a.m., also escaped before police arrived.

The six, armed with two submachine guns, had forced Nels Hoaglung, custodian, to admit them. He and Herbert Tamsen, another employe, were held while the robbers awaited the arrival of employes who could open the vaults.

Mr. Burgess forestalled the criticism I would obviously make on the bidding by condemning it as unsound, and it was through his knowledge of the particular type of unsound bidding the North player was addicted to that he was able to defeat the hand. CYESTRAIN, the forerunner of permanently impaired vision, all too often has its birthplace in the home.

Children especially, do not know how to care for their eyes. It seems second nature to them to choose the floor, or some other spot just as badly lighted, for their reading, their study or their play. It is our duty to see that they have good light wherever they use their eyes. In their carefree years, it is our duty to help them preserve the only two eyes they will ever have.

Proper lighting in the home costs so little it is a tragic mistake to "skimp" on light. And, quite often, poor lighting can be changed into good lighting without any added cost to you at all. Because proper lighting does not necessarily mean more light. You can get rid of harmful glare through use of wisely-chosen shades. "Spotty" illumination can be avoided through even distribution of light. Often all danger of eye-strain for both children and grown-ups can be avoided by a simple re-arrangement of the lights you already have.

Announcing A New Service has recently organized a Home Lighting Division. Its members are specially trained; they have made a se-beautification, as well. They have learned of the alarming prevalence of defective eyesight and have found out how to combat it.

They will tell you, for instance, that at ages beyond 60, 95 per cent of all people have defective eyesight. Of all children of elementary school age, even, 5 per cent have "bad eyes." This proportion grows through the intermediate years that follow until-hard as it is to believe - 40 per cent of students of college age suffer

A great part of this trouble begins in the home, often in the home of parents who believe their lighting is adequate and proper. Wouldn't you like to be sure your home is properly lighted? Especially when it costs absolutely nothing to find out?

Call at our office, ask for the home lighting specialist, and a personal appointment will be made to call at your home and discuss your lighting problems.

Miss Burnett Weds | Executive Board Gilbert Lamar Cobb Of State Garden

Of interest to a circle of friends

Of interest to a circle of friends was the marriage of Miss Jean Burnett to Gilbert Lamar Cobb, which was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride, on Gordon place, on Saturday afternoon.

The altar, before which the vows were taken, was a mass of palms and ferns interspersed with white chrysanthemums. At intervals were placed tall, white burning tapers.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. A. Davis, pastor of the Pryor Street Preshyterian church.

Miss Nell Tomlin, the bride's only attendant, wore green tweed with hat and other accessories to match, and her bouquet was of Talisman, roses.

The bride wore a becoming three-piece suit of blue, trimmed with squirrel, with a becoming turban and other accessories to match. Her bouquet was of purple throated orchids. Julian D. Norris acted as best man.

Mrs. Cobb, a striking brunette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Burnett, of this city. She is especially interested in journalism, receiving her training at the Georgia Tech Evvning School of Commerce.

Mr. Cobb is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamar Cobb, and the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Tennant Eubanks. He graduated from Tech High school, later attending the Georgia Tech Evening School of Commerce. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Pi fraternity and is prominently connected with the Commercial Union Assurance Company.

The Misses Sage Are Honor Guests

Misses Mary Sage and Margaret Sage, attractive members of the debutante coterie, were central figures at the tea given by their cousin, Mrs. Howard Asburn, at her home on Myrtie street on Monday. The apartments where the guests were received were decorated with colorful flowers, and the lace-covered table in the dining room had for its central adornment a silver basket filled with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Silver candesticks, holding yellow tapers, encircled the centerpiece and hand-painted place cards marking the guests' places emphasized the color motif.

Assisting Mrs. Ashburn in entertaining were Mrs. Elizabeth T. Sage, mother of the honor guests; Mrs. Carl Huber, of Moultrie; Mesdames Harold Cooledge, Charles Love and Miss Mary Norvell. Invited to meet the honor guests were Misses Caroline Crumley, Susaunne Memminger, Judy King. and large figured prints. Pick a block for the very center of the quilt. Put the 36 whites around it. This is the only block that is entirely surrounded by white blocks in the first piecing, because these same white ones join the green of another pieced block to it.

Unless you have an uneven number of pieced hexagons in your first top row the quilt scallops will not come out alike on the two sides. And unless you have the seams marked "XXX" going upright on the bed the side scallops will be too large. Fill in the gaps at top and bottom to give a straight edge.

Dolly's pattern is just like daughter's dress. It fits a doll 19 inches high.

Style No. 648 is designed in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years.

Of course, it is darling in numerous cottons, such as dotted dimity, plaided gingham, plain broadcloth, striped percale and checked batiste.

Wool jersey and wool challis prints can be tubbed and are coxy looking and practical for youngsters.

Size 4 requires 1 3-8 yards 35 or 39-inch material with 1-4 yard 35-inch contrasting for neck plaiting.

Doll's dress requires 5-8 yard 35 or 39-inch material.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield; care The Atlanta Constitution. Since the age of nine I have lived discipline. If she hasn't had it she has yet time to acquire it in the remaining months of her senior year.

About four years ago I went off to college and will graduate next spring. Having been about from pillar to post, I have become cowardly. When I first entered college the students poked fun at my poor country clothes and this didn't help me any. Added to all of this I have two other unhappy circumstances in my life. My aunt with whom I lived for a while was a jealous nature and to avenge herself ase told my mother many untruths about me. My mother never understood her children add of course believed all my aunt told her. Then I met a man who for a while brought sunshine intomy drab existence. He was all I could ask for: he was friend, adviser, lover. I lost him and since that time there has been no joy in life for me. Todny I feel sixty years old, hopeless and dejected. I should be feeling jubilant and gay at the age of twenty. No other man interests me, even my studies pall on me and life is just not worth living. HOPELESS.

Answer: Of course it is better to lose a loved one, particularly if one has been starved for affection and misunderstood and slandered by those of one's own family. But find one person who hasn't suffered this or some other anguish comparable to it. Suppose that suddenly the people who were in bodily or mental anguish should drop out of all the activities in which they were engaged, announcing that life for them was over. Industry, education, government, professions, social life and charitable endeavors of all sorts would experience a paralysis.

In a magnificent article in November Atlantic Monthly called "A Preface to Catholicism," a priest writes the 3 words worth reading: "One thing, and one thing alone, thoroughly redeems life and makes it worth while: to learn to suffer in patience, in humility and in confidence—in confidence that suffering has a meaning and purpose; not the only meaning and purpose, but the supreme meaning and purpose of life. In tearning to suffer so, there is peace, and more than peace; just in proportion as the lesson is deeply and thoroughly learned there is positive joy. This paradox is the central fact of existence as far as the human race is concerned.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

ROME, Ga., Nov. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Evans Venable announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Aunie Lee Venable, to William Jackson Greene, of Ringgold. Ga. The marriage was solemnized Friday evening at the home of the Rev. M. R. Gaddis officiating in the presence of friends of the couple.

The bride is the second daughter. Her sister is Mrs. Robert Hamilton, of Rome. Since finishing school she has taught in the Rome schools.

Mr. Greene is a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Greene, of Ringgold. He was graduated from Mercer University, Macon, and is a member of the Alpha Lamba Tau fraternity. He is superintendent of schools in Catoosa county. His brothers are Charles Greene, of Chattanooga, and Ralph Greene, of Ringgold. His sister is Mrs. Raymond Gibson, of Ringgold.

Mr. and Mrs. Greene will make their home in Ringgold.

THEY CAN'T EAT Sympathy

You who grumble when dinner is ten minutes late—do you know what it's like to wonder how your family will ever eat again? Have you ever faced the desperate fact of starvation?

You who feel sorry for yourself because you have to drive an old automobile, and buy fewer clothes... do you know what it's like to have nothing but a few rags to protect you from the coming winter winds?

One out of every five persons in this community faces starvation—RIGHT NOW!

Sixty thousand people here have nowhere to turn for help, but the Community Chest. Federal funds are for the able-bodied unemployed. Sixty thousand helpless, hopeless destitutes will starve unless you help, unless you give them hope.

And even the Federal aid we are getting will be withdrawn unless we do our part. This has already happened in three states!

These sixty thousand fellow citizens can't eat sympathy. They will not eat unless you give. A soft heart is useless to them without hard cash. And even a few pennies will buy soup to keep several families alive a few days longer.

If you have a roof over your head, and food to eat, you cannot say NO to the Community Chest. For when you do you are literally voting the death of your fellow man. If you want the cold facts to face, there they are.

The Community Chest will make your welfare dollar go further than you can make it go. One hundred of Atlanta's most honorable, most dependable citizens, serving without pay, are in touch with the needs. They are able to buy food in bulk and distribute it without waste. They can and do make every penny do two cents worth of good—by organized, expert, humane activity.

There are no high-salaried workers to absorb money that belongs to the destitute, no fancy quarters, no pretty furniture. The Community Chest solicitation is made entirely by volunteers who draw no pay at all.

Put a red feather in your hat this week. Put a sticker on your car or in your window. Let everybody know you are not willing for anyone to starve on Atlanta's streets.

MAIN 3215

The Community Chest workers will try to see everybody, but they are bound to miss some. Don't wait. Mail your subscription. Phone MAin 3215. Come to Chest headquarters. Get your money in somehow. Give what you can . . . but give.

Then appropriating his cartridge belt, and other belongings, Tarzan left him, knowing that the black would soon free himself from his bonds; yet be convinced, for the rest of his life, that by his own efforts he had narrowly avoided a terrible fate.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Satisfied with his night's work, Tarsan returned to the tree to sleep until morning, when he again took up the search for La, seeking trace of her up the valley beyond the barrier cliff of Oper, though in reality she had gone in precisely the opposite direc-

Daily Bond Averages

By VICTOR EUBANK. NEW YORK, Nov. 13 .- (P)-Further support appeared for United States government securities today, but elsewhere in the bond market

there was an irregularly lower trend there was an irregularly lower trend apparent.

Trading volume contracted to $14,-246,000, par value, compared with $19,562,000 last Friday. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans sagged 4/10 of a point.

The government list seemingly ignored another sharp decline of the dollar in terms of sterling. The source of today's buying of federals was not clear. Gains ranged from 8-32ds to 24-32ds of a point, with the heaviest turnover in the new 4 1-4s-3 1-4s and the 3 1-4s of 1941.

Small recoveries were recorded by some issues of American Telephone, Chesapeake & Ohio, Texas Corporation and Shell Union Oil.

The rails, as a group, were rather heavy. Losses of 1 to around 3 points were suffered by some liens of Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Central, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Frisco. Southern Pacific and Southern.

Bonds of Goodrich, Midvale Steel, National Dairy and Postal Telegraph were easier.

A number of European obligations

National Dairy and Toleran National Dairy and Toleran exchange against the dollar. Among these, up 1 to around 3 points, were issues of Dutch East Indies, France, Canada, Poland and the United States.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISION

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN.
CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(R)—Fresh upturns in the Washington price of gold, with British exchange at a new post-war high record, operated today to put grain values up.
Despite profit-taking on bulges, and notwithstanding sales here against purchases at Minneapolis, wheat closed firm, within 1 cent of the day's maximum and 11-4 to 2 cents above
Friday's finish, corn 3-4 to 1 cent up, oats 1-2 to 7-8 advanced, and provisions showing 2 cents to 15 cents gain.

mand.

Provisions tended upgrade with cereals and with higher prices asked for hogs.

STOCK LIST SAGS

Daily Stock Summary.

Dow-Jones Averages. By THE UNITED PRESS.

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 .- (A)-A resumption of dollar decline in the foreign exchange markets found stocks apathetic today, although commodities, especially wheat, cotton and silver, recorded considerable improvements. United States government bonds were higher, too, notwithstanding the indicated lower gold value of dollars. 119 Stocks loafed all day edging slightly higher at times but finishing with irregular and narrow changes. The average net variation of 90 issues at the close was a minor fractional loss. Volume was reduced to 1,091,315

Silver Advances.

Some traders may have decided that staples offered more speculative appeal; at any rate, silver was in brisk demand, futures making new highs for the move while bar metal moved upnearly a point to 43 3-4 cents per ounce, its best price since April, 1930. Wheat's net improvement was around 1 to 2 cents a bushel; cotton, after rising a dollar a bale, lost part of its gain.

gain.

Foreign currencies promptly resumed the rally they had been following when dealings ceased on Saturday and held or extended their gains after the R. F. C.'s gold purchasing price of $33.45 an ounce was announced. The London gold market was under Washington's bid. Sterling's orderly advance carried to $5.16 1-2, up 7 cents and a new post-war top for this market.

ander Washington's bid. Sterling's orderly advance carried to $5.16 1-2, up 7 cents and a new post-war top for this market.

Improvement shown by United States government bonds was not duplicated in other gilt-edge sections of the investment market.

In stocks there was little to choose from. Rails and utilities seemed to ease more readily than industrials, for many leaders in the last named caregory closed higher.

Fractional Gains.

Thus there were fractional gains, mostly minor ones, for United States Steel, American Can, General Motors. Case, Socony-Vacuum, Westinghouse and Bethlehem. Patino Mines established another new high; otherwise metals lagged.

American Telephone was narrow.

Wall Street was left to guess as to what had taken place at Sunday's White House conference, but assumed that various views on monetary matters had probably been expressed. Seretary Woodin took occasion to deny that the treasury opposed President Roosevelt's policy, and continuation of the program was said to be planned.

Business news included the cheery work that steel operations had picked up. American Iron & Steel Institute placed current operations at 27.1 per cent of capacity, against 25.2 a week ago. This is the first increase in some time and surprised those who expected the downtrend to continue a while longer. How durable the improvement is remains to be seen.

Brokers' Views

FENNER, BEANE & UNCERLEIDER—
We believe that Monday's market might well have served the purpose of consolidating gains and of paving the way for a further advance over the near term.

COURTS & COMPANY—In the security market, the motor stocks have made the best showing and we are told that probably they will be at the front when the market generally turns up.

DOBES & COMPANY—It has been estimated that steel operations will show an increase for the week which would make a welcome change in the industrial picture.

BEER & COMPANY—The market continues to act well and seemingly only awaits stimulus to renew its upward movement.

LIVINGETON & COMPANY—Even without much assistance from business activity we are inclined to view the atock market outlook as not unfavorable for the remainder of the year and distinctly favorable for the first quarter.

Sentiment remains friendly to the buying side and the indications are that values will continue on the upgrade.

COURTS & COMPANY—We continue friendly to the market and surgest purchases on all mederate recessions from present levels.

HUBBARD BROTHERS & CO TO DOBBS

HUBBARD BROTHERS & CO TO DOBBS

& CO .- It is our opinion that cotton can be bought on all dips in view of inflation talk and the fact that the government is ready to lend 10 cents a pound on cotton.

LIVINGSTON & COMPANY—We can see nothing to prevent prices from working gradually higher.

GRAIN OPINIONS.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER—While with the approach of December, we might encounter liquidation on bulges, we believe that there is a strong undertone to the wheat market.

believe that market.

the wheat market.

LIVINGSTON & COMPANY—We believe a conservative long position in all grains will prove profitable.

Rates Raised. NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(P)—Yield rates on longer term hankers' acceptances were raised 1/8 of 1 per cent today. The revision served to bring yields in closer alignment with those on short-term government securities which were increased by recent price declines. The new rates are 3/4 of 1 per cent bid, 5/8 asked for fourmonths bills, 1 per cent bid, 7/8 asked for five and six months.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, 5 points up at 9.90. Re-ceipts 99; shipments 389; stock 179,607.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(P)—An early advance in cotton today was followed by partial reactions. December closed at 9.89. The general market closed barely steady at net advances of 4 to 9 points.

The opening was 7 to 10 points higher in response to steady Liverpool cables, higher foreign exchange rates and the advance in the domestic gold price. There was some southern selling and profit-taking but offerings were not heavy.

At net advances of about 15 to 19 points the market met more cotton and demand tapered off somewhat after the close of Liverpool. Lowest prices were reached in the late trading when May sold off to 10.27. Active months showed losses of 10 to 11 points from the early highs. Closing quotations were the lowest for the day.

Early reports from Washington points from the early highs. Closing quotations were the lowest for the day.

Early reports from Washington that the plan to loan 4 cents per pound on the option contract cotton were considered a contributing factor on the early advance.

Reports of a continued firm spot situation and more favorable advices from the domestic goods market had a sustaining influence. Exports today 30,641 making 2,799,177 so far this season. Port receipts 36,274. United States port stocks 3,984,446.

Liverpool cables reported a steady market there with local and Bombay buying supplied by hedging and said there was a fair demand for cotton cloths but that actual business was restricted. According to afternoon reports from Washington, published by a financial news ticker, of the approximately 2,400,000 bales on which farmers hold options, about 800,000 bales are futures and some are of the opinion that before this cotton will be eligible for loans, the futures must be converted into cash cotton and stored. There was some sonthern selling here at the start and again toward the close, but as has been the case recently the pressure from such sources was comparatively light.

SLIGHT GAINS SHOWN

DULLNESS MARKS TRADING ON CURB

By BERNARD S. O'HARA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(P)—Trading on the curb exchange was almost dormant today, prices ruling narrowly irregular at the finish. Aside from a mild splurge in oils, traders were inclined toward extreme caution.

Gulf and Humble oils got up around 3 points each but improvement in other members of the group was confined to fractions. Metals were steady, and Bunker Hill & Sullivan gained 15-8 points.

Utilities and alcohols were a trifle mixed. Hiram Walker and Electric Bond & Share eased fractionally. Pan-American Airways gained a minor fraction in moderately active dealings while Aluminum Company of America closed unchanged.

Transfers approximated 200,000 shares compared with 213,000 last Friday.

Hundreds of astronmers from Massachusetts to Oregon will watch the northeast sky tonight, and Wednesday and Thursday nights—especially Wednesday night after midnight—for the long overdue rain of fire of Leonid shooting stars.

A hundred years ago Wednesday night thousands of these meteors blazed across the skies. That was their last big show. They are due three times a century and astronomers are hoping that this Wednesday may be the lucky night, despite the fact that the astronomers calculated last year as the real time.

Judge John D, Humphries, of Fulton superior court, widely-known in Atlanta as an amateur astronomer, doubts that there will be a spectacular display. However, he is confident that Atlantans who watch carefully will be rewarded by an interesting showing in the heavens.

Twenty times since 902 A. D. the Leonids have been mistaken by some persons for the end of the world. Mayan heiroglyphics record them in stone, as "falling hairs," a fair de-

Grass, Trash Blazes

Keep Firemen on Jump An even score of fires hurried firemen to various sections in and around Atlanta Monday, as, whipped by high winds, sparks set fire to grass, rubbish, woods and houses. Seven fires in houses failed to produce more than slight damage, firemen said.

A total of 13 fires in grass, rubbish pile and woods were put out, four of them outside the city limits.
